

Welcome to the pediatric ER

The process at the pediatric emergency room

What is a first assessment?

During registration the nurse will ask you to describe how you are feeling and what has happened. During the conversation the nurse will also do some checks on you and soon after makes an overall assessment of your condition right now. You will be assigned a color group based on the overall assessment. In case you start to feel worse, it's important that you inform the staff about it.

Below you'll find some examples of possible symptoms in the different groups:

Severely ill or injured get help first

At the pediatric emergency room, we always take care of very serious and life-threatening condition first. At any time seriously ill or injured can arrive that we need to prioritize.

Group 1

You will get immediate care if you have a life-threatening condition. Some examples of symptoms are:

Cramps
e.g. epilepsy

Loss of consciousness

Uncontrolled bleeding

Group 2

In this group, your waiting time is shorter, some examples of symptoms are:

Breathing issues

Eat or drink something toxic

Not reacting to medication

Group 3

This group includes patients with conditions that are troublesome but not life-threatening. The waiting time may be longer. Some examples of symptoms are:

Chronical disease

Minor fractures

Stomach ache/vomiting

Group 4

If you are in this group the waiting time could be quite long. Examples of symptoms in this group:

Cold

Minor wounds or cuts

Please note!

If you want to leave the pediatric emergency room, please remember to tell a nurse / assistant nurse.

Frequently asked questions

1. Can I leave the waiting room?

You can always go to the toilet, we'll wait for you when it's your turn. If you want to go and get some food, just talk to a nurse! It's no problem, as long as we know where you are.

2. Why can't anyone tell me exactly how long I have to wait?

We understand that you would like to know how long you have to wait. It's hard for us to give an exact time since anything can happen in the emergency room. Waiting time can change a lot within a short period as patients with life-threatening conditions or injuries can arrive with ambulance and get higher priority.

3. Why do some children get to go before me?

Sometimes they are more ill, or it can be a contagious disease or a headache and that's why we separate some children from others. This does not mean that they can see a doctor faster, but that they need some space of their own while they wait.

Severely ill or injured get help first

At the pediatric emergency room, we always take care of very serious and life-threatening conditions first.

4. What should I do if my condition worsens?

If your condition worsens during the waiting period, it is important that you inform the staff about it.

While you are waiting....

We are sorry that you have to wait... But don't worry, we haven't forgotten you! Down below you'll find some suggestions for things to do while you wait.

Here come some suggestions for games to play together to pass time!

1. 10 questions guessing game

One of the group thinks of a celebrity, a country or an animal. The others get to ask a total of 10 yes/no questions to guess what the right answer is!

Yes!

Is it a celebrity?

2. Word chain

Come up with a category, for example animals.

One player starts by saying the name of an animal, and the next player needs to begin their word with the same letter as the last letter of the animal previously mentioned. You lose if you can't think of a new word in the chosen category!

Let's choose animals! Dog.

Elephant

Giraffe

3. Read a book

In our library at Sös, there are books for both young and old. There are also audio books and movies with DVD players that you can borrow.

Just tell a nurse / assistant nurse if you want to go and eat something. It is not a problem as long as we know where you are.

Take a short walk to the library and see if you find something you like!
